BACKGROUND

Jeff purchased his 2-bedroom home in Park City, UT, with intentions to rent it for the winter season. Jeff is not local to Park City, so it is important his home is professionally maintained during the cold winter months; guests are well taken care of through excellent customer service; and he generates adequate rental income throughout the winter. After Jeff purchased his second home, he partnered with another property manager to start generating income ASAP. He quickly realized their rates were too high, the customer service was poor, and they did not care much for business. Once the existing bookings were done, he called Michael and switched to SkyRun.

SOLUTION

Immediately, Jeff knew he had a partner he could depend on to manage his home. He mentioned, “Our first contact went extremely well. We were treated like one of their top clients right away and time was spent (before any rental income had come in) to ensure we had a good property that would rent and show well.”

RESULTS

Within a week, the property was listed and marketed on over 45 websites within the US and internationally. The reservations started pouring in. Within the first 4-months, Jeff’s home generated $21,836, and that number continues to grow. In an area where the competition is fierce, their first winter results were terrific. Jeff is confident SkyRun is a partner he trusts, and his home is in good hands.

“Our customers have great things to say about the unit as well as the service that Skyrun provides. When issues have come up, SkyRun has addressed them quickly and ensured that the customers were well taken care of to make up for any inconveniences.”
